B. Information

•District Named One of Best Communities for Music Education

The Fox Chapel Area School District has been named among the 2020 Best Communities for Music Education. This is the ninth year in a row that the district received this prestigious designation! Fox Chapel Area is one of 115 in the state of Pennsylvania and one of 754 school districts in the nation chosen for this honor that recognizes outstanding commitment to music education.

The districts were selected through a program sponsored by the NAMM (National Association of Music Merchants) Foundation which recognizes outstanding efforts by teachers, administrators, parents, students, and community leaders who have made music education part of a well-rounded education. Designations are made to districts and schools that demonstrate an exceptionally high commitment and access to music education.

To qualify for the Best Communities for Music Education designation, Fox Chapel Area music teachers answered detailed questions about funding, graduation requirements, music class participation, instruction time, facilities, and support for the music program. Research into music education continues to demonstrate educational/cognitive and social skill benefits for children who make music.

The NAMM Foundation is a nonprofit that promotes and supports music education and music making for people of all ages and abilities.

•High School Student Wins National Computing Award

Fox Chapel Area High School junior Amulya Garimella has been named a winner of a 2020 National Center for Women & Information Technology (NCWIT) Award for Aspirations in Computing. She is one of 40 young women chosen from across the nation, and one of only two winners from Pennsylvania.

The NCWIT Award for Aspirations in Computing recognizes high school students in grades nine-12 for their aptitude and aspirations in technology and computing as demonstrated by their computing experience, computing-related activities, leadership experience, tenacity in the face of barriers to access, and plans for post-secondary education.

More than 4,700 students applied for the award from high schools representing all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, and all U.S. overseas military bases. Forty were named winners, and 360 received honorable mentions.

The 2020 winners receive various prizes and cash, and were to receive a trip to Bank of America headquarters in Charlotte, North Carolina, March 6-8 for a celebration and networking with Bank of America employees. The award is sponsored by Apple, Bank of America, Microsoft, and the Motorola Solutions Foundation.

Since 2007, the NCWIT has honored nearly 14,000 students through the Award for Aspirations in Computing.

•Student Wins National Gold Medal in Writing Competition

Fox Chapel Area High School senior Gwendolyn Davison was named a national medalist in the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards of 2020. Gwendolyn won a Gold Medal for her short story, "Blown in by the Hot Winds." The story features a glimpse into the life of Señorita Arango, a woman who lives in the abandoned town of Ramita, and her encounter with a group of orphan boys who aimlessly wander the train tracks in search of nourishment and connection.

This year, more than 110,000 students submitted nearly 320,000 works of art and writing to the 2020 Scholastic Awards. Only 3,000 works received a national medal, which means Gwendolyn's short story was in the top 1% of all submissions.

Gwendolyn's work will be published in the Online Galleries at artandwriting.org in June. Her name will also be listed in the Yearbook 2020, a companion publication to The Best Teen Art and The Best Teen Writing anthologies which feature a selection of work by the national medalists.

Prior to being named a national winner, Gwendolyn won a Gold Key for her short story in the Pittsburgh Regional Scholastic Writing Awards 2020 competition sponsored by the Western Pennsylvania Writing Project. Her entry was then sent to New York City for national judging where it was selected by some of the foremost leaders in literary arts for excellence in originality, technical skill, and the emergence of a personal voice or vision.

The national award is sponsored by the Alliance for Young Artists and Writers, the nonprofit organization that presents the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards. The Scholastic Art & Writing Awards continues to be the nation's longest-running, most prestigious educational initiative supporting student achievement in the visual and literary arts.

• Student Wins Scholastic Writing Award/Qualifies for National Competition

Fox Chapel Area High School senior Gwendolyn Davison won an award for her submission to the Pittsburgh Regional Scholastic Writing Awards 2020 competition. Gwendolyn was awarded a Gold Key for her short story entitled, "Blown in by the Hot Winds." Her entry was sent to New York City for national judging.

More than 400 submissions, spanning a variety of different genres of writing, were received from students from across Allegheny County. The winning students were recognized at the Regional Writing Awards Ceremony February 15 that was held in the Frick Fine Arts Building at the University of Pittsburgh. Excerpts from their work were also displayed as part of the celebration.

The local competition is sponsored by the Western Pennsylvania Writing Project. The Project is a nonprofit, teacher-centered professional development program serving area schools and students. It is hosted by the University of Pittsburgh's School of Education and is a long-standing affiliate of the National Writing Project. The group partners with schools and community organizations in its efforts to strengthen academic and public literacy.

Additionally, Jing McCann was selected as an American Visions nominee for her jewelry piece entitled, "Consumption." This honor is given to five regional Gold Key winners and their pieces are considered to be among the very best of the show. All of the Gold Key winners had their work sent to New York for national judging where they competed with other regional winners from across the United States for national awards.

The regional award winners were selected by a panel of distinguished judges which included artists, art educators, and art professionals. A show featuring the works of all of the winners was held February 7-22 at Community College of Allegheny County (CCAC) North. All of the Fox Chapel Area students were also honored at a special ceremony February 22 at the college, along with some of the other Pittsburgh Region winners.

The Fox Chapel Area High School art teachers are Joan Marangoni, Mary Jo Montgomery, Christine Smith, Sarah Stewart, and Amy Wickman.

• Students Place in State FBLA Competition/One Qualifies for Nationals

Ten Fox Chapel Area High School students placed at the 2020 Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) Virtual State Leadership Conference.
